

RECONNECT THROUGH VISUAL ART

"Being exposed to art is not about creating artists – it's about creating better people who are more able to communicate and feel worth something. Art, in all forms, allows you to see beyond your physical confines. If you do that then anything's possible." – James McAvoy

Golden Thread Gallery can provide your team with relaxed, fun group art activities to provoke conversation and connection, enhance wellbeing and calm, build knowledge and confidence around art & culture, and spark creativity and critical thinking. Our offers can be combined to create a bespoke package for teams of all sizes. Connect your team with the thriving and diverse art scene in this city - it belongs to them!

About Us

Golden Thread Gallery is a contemporary visual art gallery in Belfast. Led by Director & Curator Peter Richards and Deputy Director Sarah McAvera, we strive to be a destination where each and every visitor is engaged, educated, challenged and inspired by visual art. Located between the Cathedral Quarter and Sailortown, GTG is a wheelchair accessible ground-floor space and can comfortably accommodate up to 200 guests.
